

Dear Friends, members of the Institute,

First of all we would like to praise and thank Patricia Grandjean who led the writing of the book "Expertise of Justice - What future for Europe", published in early November 2014.

EGLE project: the preparatory works for the consensus conference mobilize sixty people for meetings held or to be held especially in GAND, BARCELONA, COLOGNE, PARIS, BRUSSELS, MILAN, UTRECHT, LA HAYE). Work is progressing well and everything will be ready for the plenary session to be held on Friday, May 29, 2015 in the big hall of the Italian Court of Cassation in Rome. We hope to see you all there.

Training Project: we welcome the creation of a European team to initiate a new project in 2015 on the training of experts, and to apply for funding to the Justice DG.

The collaboration of the EEEI with the CEPEJ shows an acknowledgement of the quality and the relevance of our work.

I take this opportunity to emphasize the huge work done by Nathalie and Maya, to congratulate and thank them.

Finally, we shall call to mind that the Institute can only progress throughout its work (EGLE, collective book, CEPEJ, newly initiated training project, management and operational organization, etc...) thanks to the continuous involvement of sixty volunteers (Judges, Lawyers, Experts and Academics) coming from fifteen EU countries. They must be all warmly thanked.

Jean-Raymond Lemaire, President

WORKING GROUPS EGLE Project

10 months into the EGLE - European Guide to Legal Expertise - project and 6 months after the Kick-off meeting that took place in Brussels on 9 July and effectively launched the work of about 60 participants, it is time for a small end-of-year update. The four Working Groups have met twice since July - in Paris, Barcelona, Ghent, and Köln, and are presenting in this newsletter the first summary reports of their ongoing discussions on civil judicial expertise in Europe.
